1. Announcements

Black out day next Friday 16th June!

2. Discussion

We discussed everything that happened in our National Eco Meeting before half term. We talked about the soil experiment we started and how we will finish it together next week. We talked about why seaweed is helping our environment and what it tasted like when we tried it (very salty!). We talked about the borrow bus and Yr Wyddfa protection special guests that came to talk to us.

We talked about what black out day will look like and this Friday we will go with Mr Jones caretaker to find out how much electricity we use in a normal Friday. Then next week we will get the meter readings for black out day and compare them. Hopefully they will be less! We talked about all the devices we cannot use.

3. Actions

We made Black Out Day posters to share to our class about the special day and answer any of their questions.

4. To do for next week:

- Share black out day posters with your class
- Friday collect meter readings for a normal day of electricity.
